SK1N PROBIOTIC SYSTEMS INTRODUCES GROUNDBREAKING LINE Professional Beauty's First-Ever Complete Probiotic Skincare Line

For the first time ever, SK1N Probiotic Systems presents a line of all-natural, probiotic-powered skincare products created exclusively for the professional beauty industry.

Building upon recent breakthroughs in scientific research, Dr. Lisa Hynes, one of the country's leading dermatologists, led a team of chemists and researchers in developing this unprecedented skincare line. Using only the highest quality natural ingredients, they created a straightforward line that yields broad results. The team's goal was to create simplified daily skincare products which would fit into today's busy lifestyle and be ideal for any skin type.

Probiotics, long known for their balancing properties, have been shown to have dramatic results for improving skin conditions such as wrinkles and fine lines, acne, psoriasis, rosacea, millia, rashes and dermatitis. By harnessing together the healing characteristics of both probiotics and prebiotics, along with key ingredients such as cucumis melo (a super antioxidant), vitamins A, D, E, PP, avocado oil, peptides, amino acids and minerals, the formulations have distinctive anti-aging properties. Additionally, the line introduces a 30+ SPF formulation designed to give both UVA protection and is a UVB blocker to protect the skin and be worn under cosmetics.

"Many people find it difficult to dedicate time in today's busy lifestyle to a regular skincare routine," Dr. Hynes said. "It was very important to us to be able to address the daily effects of environmental stress our skin is exposed to, and to develop products which could offer users measurable results for all skin types."

Formulated for optimum consumer benefit, SK1N Probiotic Systems has created a simple line of eight products. Each contains exclusive probiotic compounds with extensive benefits to the skin: Body Lotion, Booster Serum; Daily Cleanser; Daily Moisturizing Cream; Eye Cream; Hand Cream; Masque; and Night Cream. The Daily Moisturizing Cream is an important addition to the line allowing the creation of a very special moisturizer with critical SPF 30+ skin protection.

With sleek, modern packaging, the consumer-friendly line represents a new and exciting way of putting probiotics into skincare. The cutting edge, scientific technology makes it the first complete probiotic skincare line in professional beauty. A back to basics approach combined with the latest technology.

SK1N Probiotic Systems products are available only through authorized distributors and/or professional beauty salons and spas.
